

Theodoric married his daughter AMALASUINTHA to the Amal EU THARIC, whom he had "found" among the Visigoths, thus designating him as his successor. After Justin had become emperor, he recognized Theodoric's arrangement for succession, thus fulfilling a request Heraclia had already made of Anastasius.

Emperor Euthric was adopted by Justin as the emperor's "son in arms"; he was

Great Roman Citizenship and as FLAVIUS FELTHALICUS ALL 19A in 519 he assumed the citizenship together with the emperor who had himself held only a second consul, thus conceding precedence to the first